Rusk Praises Work Of Conference

Cubans Boycott
Sessions After
Custer Is Voted

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the inter-American foreign ministers Wednesday he sees Cuba eventually released from "its nightmare and returned to the family of American states."

Prime Minister Fidel Castro's delegation left the 10-day old conference in a huff, boycotting two general sessions that formalized an indictment of communism's intrusions in Western Hemisphere affairs.

President Osvaldo Dorticos of Cuba told newsmen the outcome meant "a defeat for U.S. imperialism" and transformation of the 21-nation Organization of American States into a political-military bloc subject to U.S. interests.

Rusk spoke at a plenary session which adopted a final report on a series of resolutions, including the hotly debated decision calling for expulsion of the Castro regime by the OAS from councils of the inter-American family. With Cuba absent, the vote was 20-0.

Difficulty On One Point

"We have agreed on a very great deal," Rusk said.

"We have had some difficulty on only one point; how to give effect to the simple fact that we all recognize, namely that the official character and policies of the present government of Cuba are incompatible with the presence and participation of that government in the principal business of the Organization of American States."

All the foreign ministers in the OAS except the Cuban Wednesday night signed the inter-American conference's final act condemning the Castro regime. Uruguay's Foreign Minister Homero Martinez Montero then adjourned the two-week conference at 9:20 p.m. (7:20 p.m. EST).

The crucial vote for booting the Castro regime from the OAS came in a committee session that began Tuesday night and lasted long past midnight. The vote was 14-1, with six abstentions.

Cuba cast the negative vote. The abstainers, whose governments represent more than two-thirds of Latin America's people, were Argentina, Brazil, Bolivia, Chile, Ecuador and Mexico.

Lined up with the United States for the resolution were Colombia, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Uruguay and Venezuela.

Close To Unanimity

A U.S. source said Rusk's team neared unanimity at one time. It won approval of five members of the six-nation bloc favoring a soft approach on condition that one word be changed. They suggested the word "exclude" be changed to a phrase saying Castro's activities were "contrary to participation" in inter-American councils. Hardliners such as Colombia refused to go along.

Other resolutions adopted at the committee session, with Cuba the dissenting vote unless otherwise indicated, included:

The most stinging denunciation of Communist intrusion in the Western world ever adopted by any inter-American body.

Expulsion of Cuba from the Inter-American Defense Board, in which it had not actually participated for 10 months, 20-1.

An endorsement of President Kennedy's $20-billion Alliance for Progress program, 20-1.

An embargo on arms trade between Cuba and OAS members, 16-1, with Cuba voting no and Brazil, Chile, Ecuador and Bolivia abstaining.

A call for the OAS "to maintain all vigilance necessary" against international communism, 19-1, with Cuba voting no and Bolivia abstaining.

Son-In-Law Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alexei Adzhubei, the son-in-law of Soviet Premier Khrushchev, said Wednesday his country hopes for an agreement on Laos and "it may come very soon."

"It will be a very promising beginning," Adzhubei said in answering questions concerning the problems which raise tensions between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Adzhubei, editor of the Soviet newspaper Izvestia, attended President Kennedy's afternoon news conference. As he left, he was surrounded by newsmen who made him the center of an impromptu interview.

Kennedy had just told his news conference that there has been evidence of Soviet cooperation in lessening the danger of war in Laos.

Adzhubei was asked whether his luncheon meeting with Kennedy Tuesday would help ease tensions between the two nations.

"We'll see," he replied.

And he said "ask the President about that" when newsmen queried whether the talks with Kennedy would provide any basis for future understanding.

Adzhubei, with Georgi Bolshakov, editor of the Soviet magazine U.S.S.R. acting as interpreter, appeared in good humor.

He frequently quipped and told jokes, but he sidestepped direct answers to many of the questions hurled at him.

Bonn President Algeria Raiders
Flies To Berlin Get $129,000

ALGIERS (UPI) — European gunmen Wednesday staged at least seven bank and office holdups in Algiers and Oran, fleeing with $129,000 expected to help finance the terror campaign of the Secret Army Organization (OAS) in Algeria.

Nine persons were killed and six wounded in other incidents of violence throughout the territory, bringing the unofficial death toll since New Year's Day to 569, with 985 injured.

Six of the holdups were staged in Algiers and one in the port city of Oran. The raids were executed smoothly and there were no reports of arrests.

While he flew in, Communist police carried out new evictions of tenants from border apartment houses near the Friedrichstrasse crossing point in another move to strengthen their anti-refugee wall between East and West Berlin.

The East German radio, broadcasting charges by Deputy Foreign Minister Otto Winzer, said Luebke's flight was illegal. It was not in West Berlin because the city is not part of the West German federal republic.

Communist officials dismissed the American charges. They said the United States recognized no limitations on the use of the three 20-mile-wide Allied air corridors to West Berlin.

Luebke flew here in a U.S. Air Force transport because West German aircraft, under four-power agreements, may not fly to Berlin. Only U.S., British and French aircraft may use the corridors.

The East German Communist news agency ADN charged Luebke's visit was designed to bolster the "sinking morale of West Berlin" and to "hinder a normalization" of the situation in the city.

The U.S. Army, meanwhile, prepared to send another convoy down the autobahn to West Germany Thursday in another demonstration of its right to use the road to the isolated city.

The statistics released by Goldberg:

—A total of 4,663,000 unemployed Americans in January.

—A fall of 1,409,000 in employment during the month which still left the employed total at a record January high of 65,058,000.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Imagine a pilot an automatic washer with astrologer has warned Prime Minister Nehru to be extra careful about letting hubby out in a shirt that buttons down the front — and women figure the instruction booklets are for slow learners.

What's worse, the split personality shirt many days is tattle tale gray on the right side and ouchy for the first when the appliance goes blotto.

Let it happen once and the neighbors will think you have gremlins in the laundry or bats in the belfry.

But such strange shirts are regularly worn by white collar workers in one Cincinnati firm.

The males sporting the odd are volunteers in research aimed at helping to develop better ways to make clothes come clean in a home laundry.

And their wives don't have to worry a speck about getting a poor reputation in the laundry department. The two-piece shirts are washed — each half via a different process — in the firm's laundry research center.

Ann Lyng, home economist and professional washer woman, described the split personality shirts in an interview.

She gets the credit for a shirt that comes back from her laundry half white and half gray.

"We're trying," she said, "to find out why some home wash comes out sparkling and other wash is cloudy."

In the course of research, human failures among some of the nation's 50 million home laundries have come to the surface.

Miss Lyng, who supervises the washing of tons of dirty clothes a year for her firm said the typical female uses too much woman's intuition when doing the family wash.

"The biggest mistake," she said, "is taking color fastness for granted. They tend to take a calculated risk when tossing a dark or deep-toned article of clothing in with all the other wash."

Other failures Miss Lyng said include the following:

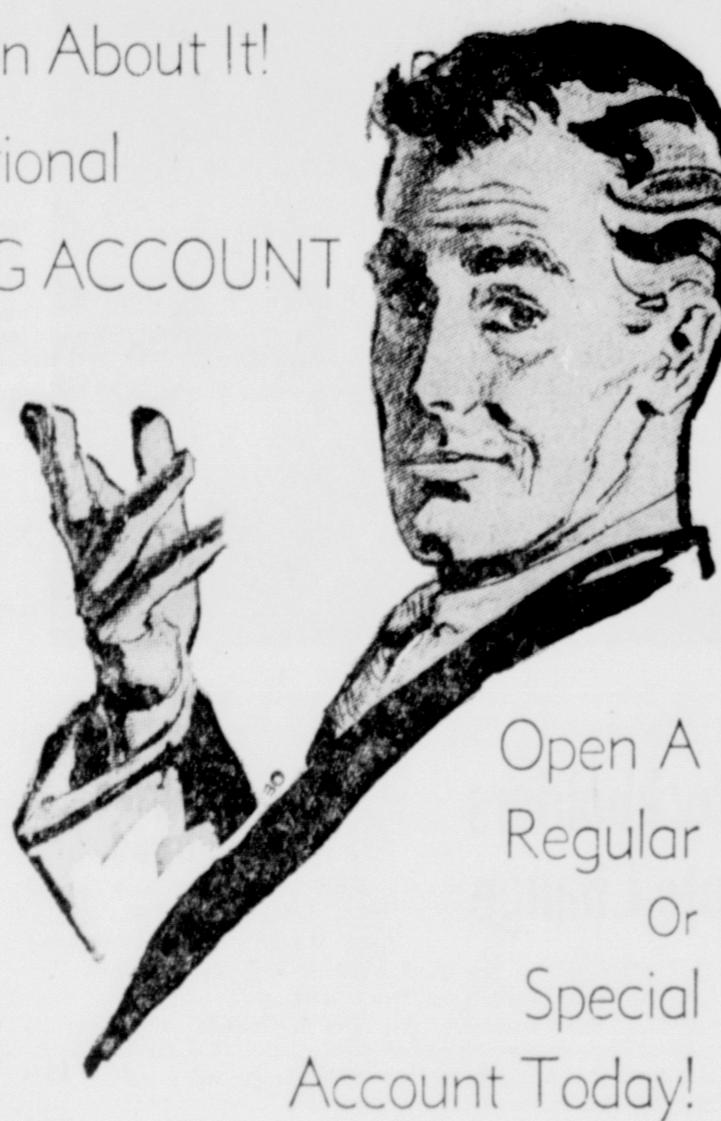

—Washing clothes in water that's just 127 degrees hot. Clothes wash the best in 140 degree water. You can't even dip your hand in water that hot.

—Guessing about the proper quantity of soap or detergent to toss into an automatic washer. Surveys have shown that wash comes clean best when the sudsing ingredients are measured in a standard measuring cup.

What Do Doctors Do When They Suffer HEADACHE PAIN?

New York, N.Y.—Most doctors live under constant nervous tension, pressure and mental strain. It's not surprising they, too, often suffer from miserable headaches. But now it can be revealed what doctors, themselves, take to relieve headache pain.

A survey shows many doctors take the fast, pain-relieving ingredients in Anacin®. In fact, three out of four doctors recommend this same type of relief to their patients.

Anacin Tablets are stronger yet safer. They give fast, long-lasting and — more complete relief from tense, nervous headaches than aspirin or aspirin with buffering. You see, mere aspirin or buffered aspirin contains only one pain reliever. But Anacin is different. Anacin is like a doctor's prescription. That is, a combination of medically proven ingredients recognized for their effectiveness by the highest medical authorities. Anacin gives extra medication that not only relieves pain fast, but also its nervous tension, pressure and depression.

After taking Anacin — pain goes in minutes! The sufferer "feels great" again.

Despite their strength and effectiveness—Anacin Tablets contain no narcotics, do not form a habit or leave one depressed. Anacin may be taken as directed as often as needed without upsetting or irritating the stomach.

See if the extra medication in Anacin doesn't work better for you. Change to Anacin for fast, long-lasting, more complete pain-relief.

America's Far Right: The Walker Case

EDITOR'S NOTE—To many members of the Far Right, Gen. Edwin Walker—who resigned from the Army after a row over his ultraconservative program—has become a national hero. The third of six articles on the ultraconservative wing provides a vivid closeup of the controversial general.

By REILAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

Gen. Edwin A. Walker is a deeply disturbed man.

He is disturbed about loyalty in the federal government, about co-operation with censorship has hastened our existence with the Communists, about some rulings of the Supreme Court, about 15 "policy decisions" in foreign relations, this about the position of the United States vis-à-vis the United Nations, about actions of the late Dag Hammarskjold, and especially about the "media," meaning American newspapers, radio and television.

Discussing this last point during kind of propaganda, combined with censorship has hastened our retreat from victory through 16 years."

Walker's ideas, in some respects, closely parallel those of the recently formed groups on the far right. The transcript of the Army investigation of him, held last April, on allegations that he was guilty of improper conduct as a commander in Germany, quotes him as saying he joined the John Birch Society in 1959 but never attended another of its meetings.

He told this reporter, "I'm not being associated with any organization. I am not going to be a principal spokesman for anyone but Edwin A. Walker."

In any case, it seems unlikely that he would emerge as the leader of a unified rightist movement, should such unification ever take place.

He graduated from West Point in 1931. He was a combat commander during World War II and in the Korean War. He commanded the troops sent to Little Rock, Ark., in the desegregation disturbances of 1957, "contrary to my personal wishes."

In 1959, he tried to resign from the Army.

The resignation was refused. The Army assigned him to command the 24th U.S. Infantry Division in Germany.

His collision with the Pentagon developed last April.

A pamphlet published by Walker says that Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense of public affairs, telephoned him from Washington, April 15.

The pamphlet says Sylvester asked Walker whether he was using John Birch Society material in his troop indoctrination program. Walker replied that he was not.

Sylvester then asked, according to the pamphlet, whether Walker had ever alluded to former President Harry S. Truman and former Secretary of State Dean Acheson as "pink." Walker also denied this.

In response to the same question with regard to Eleanor Roosevelt, the pamphlet says: "Gen. Walker replied that he had referred to Mrs. Roosevelt as a pink; that his reference to her had been made a year or so before in a discussion meeting."

Walker was relieved of his command. The Army investigated these and other charges against him. When the inquiry ended, he was "admonished," to use the official Army regulations term. Then he was assigned to Hawaii.

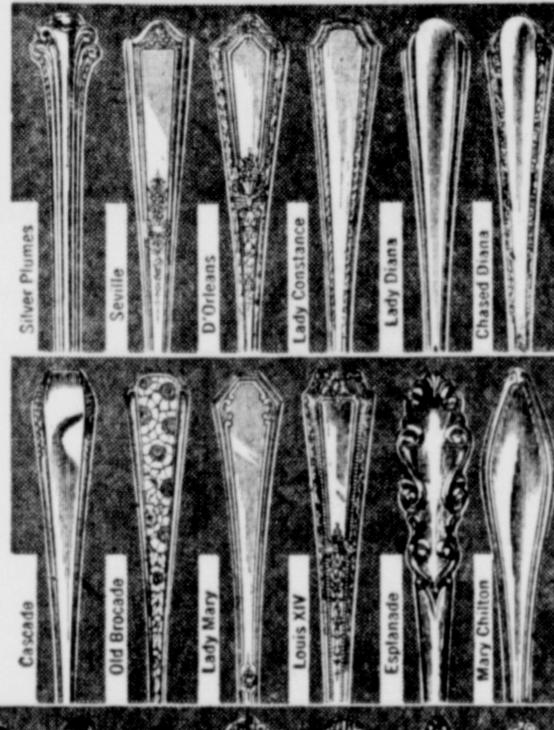

GEN. EDWIN WALKER

two-star rank and refused Army of their weapons," he says, "to point of no return in the U.N. include the responsibility for their late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold was a long way planning and their use."

The United Nations? He replies, from being the best thing that "We have long since passed the ever happened to America."

William H. Schmidt Jr., director of public relations and passenger traffic, promoted to assistant vice president in the freight sales department.

Charles J. Henry, assistant vice president—rates, promoted to vice president in charge of the marketing department.

Earl E. Mountcastle was appointed freight traffic manager, Eastern Region, succeeding Harry A. Witte, who is retiring after 48 years of service with the B & O.

Herald S. Smith, general freight agent at Detroit, was appointed House at its present membership freight traffic manager, Southwest of 123 seats and give them a genuine shuffle to more clearly region, succeeding Haesszel.

Edward H. Riecks, assistant freight population.

Del. Clark's Plan

Baltimore City would lose a net of three seats from its present block of 36 and its six legislative districts would be revamped from their present limits of six. The 3rd District would have eight, the 5th would have seven, the 4th and 6th would drop to five each and the 1st and 2nd would have four each.

By regions the Eastern Shore would lose six delegates and west Maryland a total of seven. The bill would insure that no county would have below the present minimum of two seats. Larger counties would elect from districts with a minimum of three. The 18 votes are needed for a proposed constitutional amendment.

The Senate killed off the administration's reapportionment plan 16-11 last year in its only serious test in that chamber.

Central Water

(Continued from Page 28) also owned by the consumers and as far as could be determined, there are 14 connections to this system, serving approximately 40 persons.

The system consists of an approximately 10 foot wide x 2 foot deep concrete check-dam on Winebrenner Run. On the side of the small impoundment there is a three foot square concrete collecting box. From this collecting box a 2½-inch line runs to the distribution system. No treatment is provided.

Barnes Supply—Records of this office indicate that this supply serves approximately 14 houses, that the sources of supply are three poorly protected springs and little is known concerning the distribution system.

Systems Are Inadequate

As has been stated, none of these water supplies are adequate from a public health standpoint and in the opinion of this writer, none of them could be brought to a condition that would meet the standards of the State Health Department.

It would be highly desirable to provide one central water system to serve the approximately 70 residences in Midlothian. It is possible that adequate underground sources could be developed into an adequate source.

House they face a formidable test ahead, although the geology of the 29-member Senate, where a proposed constitutional amendment.

Woman Hurt In Car Crash

An employee of Garrett County Memorial Hospital at Oakland was admitted to that institution yesterday after she was involved in a two-car collision on U. S. Route 219, about four miles north of Oakland.

I'm also asked if I change the known this guy for seven years letters much. The answer is, very and I never knew he was married." That did it. I tried a separation but I was too spineless to see it through.

Mrs. Paugh reportedly was driving to work about 9 a. m. when the accident occurred.

According to sketchy reports, Mrs. Paugh, alone in her car, attempted to pull onto the highway from a side road when another automobile, reportedly belonging to William Hinebaugh, of Oakland, collided with the Paugh vehicle.

Mrs. Charity Hinebaugh, an occupant of the other car, was examined for injuries at the hospital and released.

Cpl. R. D. Henline, of the Maryland State Police, is investigating the mishap.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR READERS: I'm often too, but we can't afford sitters asked if I make up letters. The very often, so I'm with the kids answer is no. Made up letters too much. They must be sick of would be pale indeed compared the sight of me.

I'm also asked if I change the known this guy for seven years letters much. The answer is, very and I never knew he was married." That did it. I tried a separation but I was too spineless to see it through.

Letters must. However, most letters must be cut for reasons of space. Others must be laundered, and the grammar. Her superficial injuries are correct.

New Year's Eve B went out for a cigarette" after supper. He came home the next morning at 8:30 a. m. He ran into a buddy and they went to a party. No — I wouldn't have gone along if I had been invited. His friends are a bunch of creeps — like the morons I ran with 11 years ago.

All they talk about is poker winnings and bowling averages. Of course I could tell them which floor was the best shine, or that we have a new mailman — but who cares?

So, I'm 25 and I've missed it all — education, fun, freedom, and a chance for self-respect. Sure, I have happy moments. When the kids are asleep I sit in the dark with my crutch — a bottle — and escape into a world of dreams.

When I read "Since You Ask Me" I kept saying, "How true! I wish I'd known all this earlier." So, Ann Landers, you didn't ask me, but I told you anyway. Now, back to my booze, and a world I never made. — L. A.

DEAR L. A.: I'm pleased that you like my book but it's curious that you failed to relate Chapter Fourteen to yourself. It is called "The Battle Of The Bottle."

No woman of 25 has the right to drown herself in a sea of alcohol. It's a crime that a young wife admits I'm a lousy housekeeper but there's so much to do I can't get organized. I'm a lousy mother, here it is:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your new book "Since You Ask Me" is terrific. Every chapter has something valuable in it. I'm saving it for my 9-year-old daughter to read in a couple of years. If I had read it when I was 11 my life might have been different.

Boys were never a problem until I met B. It was the same old garbage — "love at first sight." Within a month we were having an affair. I was only 15. Five months later I was pregnant.

I had a "premature" child at 16.

I'm 25 now and my social calendar this past year reads like

Airport Commission To Meet Today

The Municipal Airport Commission will meet Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the office of Mayor J. Edwin Keech to discuss improvements that are needed at the Wiley Ford facility.

Attending the meeting, according to Mayor Keech, will be Rudolph Drennan, state aviation director, who will be asked to explain "It Befalleth Both Men and Beasts" and "Though With the Tongues of Men and Holy Angels" by Brahms.

Lenke will present as the final part of the program the "Fantasia in F Minor" by Mozart, a composition originally written for the mechanical organs used in conjunction with clock towers in the 1700's.

A feature of the organ portion will be an illustration of the four classes of organ tone that comprise the instrument's tonal resources.

Get back to page 166 and start reading. Life needn't be an enemy. It can be a friend. But you must be willing to stand on your two feet and meet it face to face.

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experiences of thousands of teenagers if you write to ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you care of this newspaper enclosing a stamp with your problems. Send them to her in an self-addressed envelope.

Jack Cummings who is back on the lot where he made many movies, and will be filmed this summer in San Diego.

"Mister, Will You Marry Me?" is based on a novel by Frederick Kohner who is the author of "Gidget," "Jail House Rock" which Elvis made on the MGM lot cleaned up big.

Edie Adams, who was to have co-starred with David Wayne in "Venus At Large" on the Broadway stage at the time of Ernie Kovacs' tragic death, said yesterday when I told her that Tina Louise had landed the role, "I think it will be wonderful for Tina. It's a light, gay comedy. She was with me, you know, in 'Lil Abner' when I played Daisy Mae."

Edie said she couldn't worry over what estate Ernie left, or what he didn't. "I couldn't get any blow comparable to the one of losing him," she said. She's going back to work a little later, she told me, which her friends think would be the best thing in the world for her.

Joan Fontaine, in town for a Dick Powell TV show, telephoned to say hi. She tells me that she's going on the Earl Blackwell cruise on the Leonardo Da Vinci.

"Charles Addams, the New Yorker Magazine cartoonist is my escort," said Joan. "I like him very much." She said Mr. and Mrs. Zachary Scott and Gore Vidal are others making the trip. The cruise sounds like fun and I would love to be going with them.

Her estranged husband, Collier Young is working on the same lot with Joan. "We get our divorce any minute," she said, "and then I'll be free." But she says she's not going to marry again. I wonder?

Had lunch with George Chakiris and he told me that he had been invited to the command performance in London following the premiere of "West Side Story." "I want so much to go," he said, "because I lived in London for almost two years, but I'm afraid 'Diamond Head' will be started then. I certainly would like to be there when 'West Side' opens, because I played in the London stage play. Some people think the British are very cold, but I didn't find them that way."

George, who is quite shy, amused me by trying to find someone to cut his hair. "I really need a haircut," he said, "but I'm supposed to have it fairly long in 'Diamond Head', and I don't want to look like a skinned rabbit."

There are many reports that Morris Levy, president of Roulette Records, had his eye on Keely Smith, but it could be business, because he is talking to her about playing to top role in Joey Dee's movie, "The Ace of Hearts."

Joey, one of twistdom's biggest attractions, and his starlighters, have already made one movie, "Hey, Let's Twist." The second picture will be filmed at Miami Beach in mid-February.

I've known Harold Lloyd, Jr., since he was a week old and I've never, in all those years, heard him as excited as he was when he telephoned to tell me that he and Walter Emory, Jr. have formed a company to make "Little Girl Lost" and other motion pictures.

We're starring Carroll Naish in the first one and we have as our partners Al and Herb Pfeifer. They are in the oil business and they've been eager to get into the picture business. I'll make a Cameo appearance and be executive producer...it's exactly what I've wanted."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Interior said Tuesday that construction will begin this month of a visitor center at Antietam National Battlefield Site.

A department spokesman said a contract for $128,450 was awarded to W. Harley Miller, Inc., Martinsburg, W.Va., the lowest of six bidders.

The center will provide a view of the entire battlefield from an upper level of the split-level building. An exhibit room will be on the lower level.

But Where Did It All Go?

No taxpayer who has just completed his settlement with Uncle Sam for last year, or is about to do so, need be reminded of his individual share of the burden of national government expenditure. Per capita shares of local and state taxes are not so easily determined, but nationally they average about 48 per cent of federal outlays.

In the fiscal year 1963, if the President receives no more and no less than he requested from Congress, the federal government will spend approximately $114 billion. This includes $21.5 billion in continuing expenditures for Social Security, unemployment compensation and other items not included in the budget of $92.5 billion.

Added to this will be $55 billion for local and state government expenditures. These heady statistics obviously represent a lot of money. But what do they represent in terms of national income?

Economists expect the 1962 gross national product to show a healthy climb over 1961, exceeding the $500 billion level for the third time. Thus, taxes will consume about 30 cents of every dollar of income generated, and 38 cents of every dollar in personal income.

Realization that 38 per cent of the average personal income is spent to support government may not make it less painful, but does provide an answer to the familiar year-end lament, "but where did it all go?"

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Ordeal Of Search

When Senator Joe McCarthy appeared on the scene, I was among the first newspapermen to support him. Having studied Marxism since about 1913, and having lived through various phases of the Marxist movement including the first year of the Bolshevik Revolution in Russia and about 13 years of it in China, I recognized that McCarthy was moving in the right direction but needed considerable study and training. His chief assistant was Roy Cohn who came to McCarthy on my recommendation because, although very young, he had a profound knowledge of the subject which he cultivated while he was in the Attorney General's office where his services in the Rosenberg Case were significant. Another assistant was Robert Kennedy, now the Attorney General.

All of us, who helped McCarthy, were attacked and abused because many did not understand that the problem had to be dealt with as an attack on Marxism and Soviet espionage. Some were able to take the attack and all the unpleasantness that accompanied it. The Communists naturally fought back and all who were associated with McCarthy, no matter to what degree, were required to make personal sacrifices. Some survived; others are still paying for their insistence upon principle.

The years have passed and new situations face us. The immediate problem that our country encounters is war. In this war, the American Communist is not so much a political activist as he is a spy. He will be handled better by the FBI than by an investigative committee, although some work can still be done by Congressional Committees and they should be preserved.

Also, the attitude and position of the American government has changed radically. This country faces war under circumstances very different from those in 1941. The enemy is a different one. Then we organized against Germany and Japan and our allies were strong; today our enemy is Soviet Russia and our allies are weak, their great empires no longer existing. Then, we and our allies possessed enormous wealth; now, the economic capacity of our enemy is as great as ours. Today we could dictate the terms of war and peace; then we had to negotiate for survival.

Therefore, one who understands the problems that we have to meet must realize that we must meet the enemy as a united nation or we shall collapse by disunion. Nothing is easier, in a free country, than to find flaws in the operations of a free government. Of course, President Kennedy makes mistakes; of course, the Congress makes mistakes. Of course, the Cabinet is not the best that could be chosen. Perfection is to be sought for and found in Heaven. But what we are dealing with is the hell of war and our imperfections have to be met with good-will and have to be corrected and courageously to meet our current dangers.

However, there are bigoted persons who live in the past and refuse to adjust their thinking to the fiercely uncomfortable problems of the day. Constantly I receive letters denouncing me for not attacking President Kennedy and insisting that I have "sold out." The conflict is between the United States and Soviet Russia. Do they want me to support Soviet Russia? They say that they are against Communism, but as one who reads what they have to say, they are dealing with primitive Marxism which fits Albania but neither the United States nor Soviet Russia. Their comments on American Communism would have been correct in the 1930s but no longer fit our country or our period. They refer to a party that was led in Soviet Russia by Bukharin and Radek and in the United States by Earl Browder. They are not only behind the times but their thinking is unrelated to reality.

And they insist that they are supporting American ideals when they are not even Americans. Those who are discouraged by the course of events find comfort in their excesses because other courses seem to be in the middle of nothing. What they do not seem to understand is that a big battle is being formed against the development of an imperialism that has set forth to destroy us as a people.

Our realistic weakness is not that we do not understand Marxism but that we fail to grasp the enormous progress of Soviet Russia and the strides it has made because of the nature of political geography and our own failures to grasp the enemy's purposes.

'Now Say - Hee Haw - Hee Haw'

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Cuba is only an incident — an example. The real battle today is to save Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Mexico, which are the rich prizes that the Soviet Union has set out to win in Latin America. If they succumb, the other countries are expected to collapse soon thereafter...

This is one reason why the United States endeavored to line up the Organization of American States behind some action that would show the Soviets, as well as their followers in Central and South America, that the invasion of this hemisphere is not to go unchallenged.

This is why a controversy over the action to be taken at the Punta Del Este Conference was inevitable. The draft resolution presented by the United States for the signature of all the foreign ministers minced no words. It read as follows:

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

SUPREME COURT — Reports are circulating in Washington that there may be a vacancy on the U. S. Supreme Court, giving President Kennedy his first opportunity to make an appointment to the high bench.

What matters most at the moment is not whether the United States could achieve a victory for a resolution at the conference at Punta Del Este that would have imposed an economic embargo on Cuba, but whether the viewpoint of this country has been sufficiently impressed on Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Mexico so that their respective governments will begin to see that they cannot hesitate any longer. They cannot flounder indefinitely between the Washington government, they would like to see a less drastic course pursued.

So at last a start has been made toward a crusade for freedom from Soviet interference throughout Latin America. Cuba, the ministers have been able to verify that the subversive offensive of Communist governments, their agents and the organizations which they control, has increased in intensity. The purpose of this offensive is the destruction of democratic institutions and the establishment of totalitarian dictatorship at the service of extracontinental powers."

That's the story in a nutshell of what the United States, after many years of patient observation, has finally brought out into the open. It isn't easy for any of the Latin-American nations to swallow this accusation, though they know it to be true.

So at last a start has been made toward a crusade for freedom from Soviet interference throughout Latin America. Cuba, is reasoned, will in due time collapse either through internal discontent resulting from economic chaos or from effective revolutionary activity carried on from bases in other Latin-American countries where exiles are daily planning measures that can enable them to return to their native land.

There is a strange paradox in all this. Thus, inside the United States the fight against Communism has met with legal hurdles that Latin Americans cannot understand. They wonder how it is that Communists can conduct public meetings advancing their ideological doctrines and can, even with "evil intent," teach and advocate the forcible overthrow of the federal government and get away with it as long as they can not be proved to have instigated action to that end. These distinctions may be clear to our Supreme Court Justices, but in Latin America they ask: "How can you expect us to deal with subversion when you tolerate it in your own country and characterize as 'extremists' people who fight Communism?"

It may be said in reply that perhaps the United States does not consider the Communist menace likely to make as much headway here as it already has in other countries in this hemisphere less able to police themselves.

What counts at the moment, however, is the firm declaration of President Kennedy made to the American Society of Newspaper Editors last year, which might well have been given emphasis at the Punta Del Este Conference. He said on April 21, 1961:

"Should it ever appear that the inter-American doctrine of non-interference merely conceals or excuses a policy of non-action — if the nations of this hemisphere should fail to meet their commitments against outside Communist penetration — then I want it clearly understood that this government will not hesitate in meeting its primary obligations which are to the security of our own nation."

Equilibrium Involved In Meniere's Syndrome

The only hesitancy Kennedy might experience in making such an appointment is the knowledge that he'd be risking a sure Senate seat. As things now stand, Ribicoff is ready to accept a "draft" to run for the Senate against Prescott Bush, Connecticut Republican, whose term expires this year. Ribicoff, the greatest Democratic vote-getter in that state's history, is considered a shoo-in.

However Rep. Frank Kowalski of Connecticut, is standing in the wings ready to replace Ribicoff as a Democratic candidate for the Senate, should he not run for any reason. Senate Appears Ready To Pass Pipeline Bill

House Measures Moving Forward

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Senate is expected to approve by a healthy margin Thursday what earlier was the hottest issue before the Legislature—the coal-carrying pipeline proposal.

Only one minor amendment was offered to the measure Wednesday in the Senate while four coal slurry bills were moved to the amendment stage in the House.

A four-bill package granting builders of coal pipelines the right of eminent domain will be at amendment stage in the House Thursday but that chamber must first dispose of another effort to set up a study commission on the issue.

Del. John Amick, D-Kanawha, introduced a resolution Wednesday calling for the study. It was a parliamentary maneuver to bring the matter to the floor. A similar resolution was referred to committee early in the session at the request of its sponsors.

Sen. Minority Leader John E. Carrigan, R-Marshall, introduced an amendment which would combine with the Senate slurry measure a bill granting eminent domain to a Grant County project for the Virginia Electric Power Co. (VEPCO). He said language of the so-called VEPCO bill would grant any individual the right of eminent domain if he could prove his coal was going to be used for an electric power plant.

In other action Tuesday, the House:

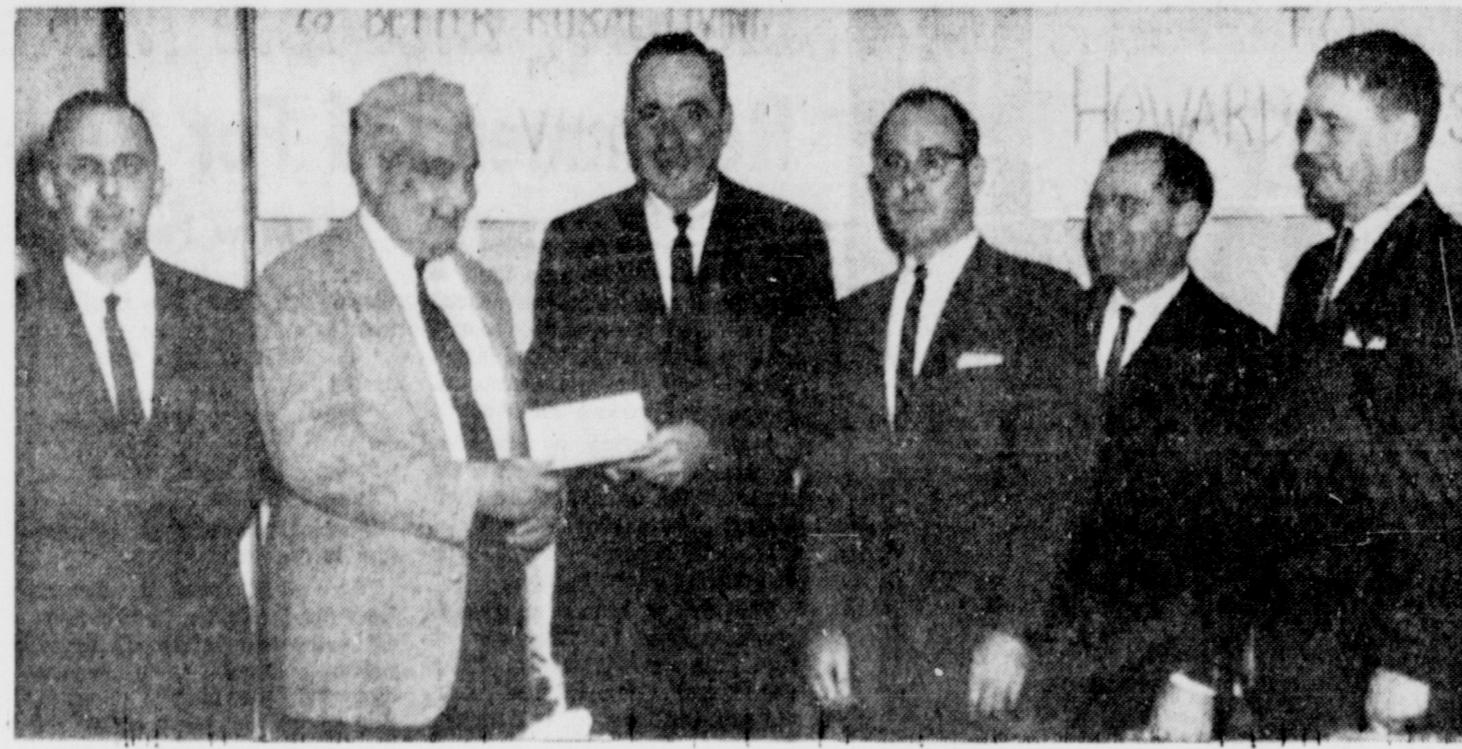

Passed 95-1 an omnibus salary bill for county clerks, circuit clerks and joint clerks of county and circuit courts.

Passed 95-1 a measure permitting overweight and oversized vehicles to use highways if owners agree to compensate the road commission for damages and expenses. The same bill was passed 30-0 in the Senate.

Passed 89-9 a bill authorizing redevelopment of land for industrial use even though it is not designated as slum or blighted area.

Announce Birth

Leaders Attend Water Improvement Dinner At Keyser

Among those taking part in a dinner program marking the official granting of a $200,000 loan for the improvement of the city of Keyser's water system Tuesday night were, (left to right) William A. Jones, Morgantown, real estate loan officer; Judge Robert Hedrick, Elkins, shown presenting the pass book to Mayor

Richard E. Romig; City Attorney Charles Smith; Richard Fleek of the Soil Conservation Service; and Donald A. Robey, Romney, FHA supervisor for Mineral, Hampshire, and Morgan Counties, master of ceremonies for the event, which was attended by many interested citizens and officials.

Nathan Rosen, Early Hancock Merchant, Dies

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—H. Nathan Rosen, pioneer Hagerstown merchant who operated five stores in two states, died at a convalescent home Wednesday. He was 84.

He opened his first store in Hancock and subsequently operated two stores in Hagerstown, as well as one in Martinsburg and Charles Town, W. Va.

Survivors include his widow, Jennie, and five sons—Isadore and Aaron of Baltimore, Norman, Robert and Odell of Hagerstown, the latter three partners in the firm of H. Nathan Rosen and Sons.

He will be buried Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in the cemetery of Congregation B'nai Abraham near Hagerstown.

Rosen came to Hagerstown in 1905 from London to visit a sister. He was born in Europe and migrated to Capetown, South Africa when 16 years old. He left South Africa after contracting a tropical ailment and being told he had only one year to live.

He served as a member of the Hancock Town Council, but resigned in protest when the council passed an act prohibiting the sale of corks and bottles during prohibition.

He also served as president of the Hancock Chamber of Commerce, and the Hancock Realty Corp. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge of Hancock.

Dog Warning Issued

The problem of dogs running at large in the town of Ridgeley was discussed at a special meeting of the Mayor and Council Saturday.

Town officials said that the problem has been on the increase since last summer and several residents of the town have reached the point where they threaten to poison or shoot dogs on their property.

Mayor Charles H. Fryer said the problem has gotten out of hand and stern measures will be taken to correct the situation.

Ridgeley's town ordinance states that all dogs must be licensed, and leashed and muzzled while off the owner's property.

Owners of dogs who fail to comply with the ordinance in the future will be fined $1 to $25, Fryer said.

The mayor pointed out that dogs picked up wearing a tag are kept 15 days, while untagged dogs are kept only five days before being disposed of.

The world's largest offshore fishing grounds are the Grand Banks, off Newfoundland.

Idaho is the only state in the United States over which foreign flag ever has flown.

Paula Douglass, eight-year-old, third-grade student at Johnson Hall in origin and contains the C&O Canal designation in the first winning entry in the C&O Canal letter and last two letters.

The initiative of Paula and the memory of a man who once worked on the Canal and who has a rich store of historical lore about it, must be credited with coming up with the winning name.

Paula and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Douglass, 704 Hill Top Drive, are close friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shannon of 116 Jackson Street.

Shannon, as a boy, worked on boats on the Canal and has many stories to tell about it. The Douglass knew this and went to see to them about a payboat which is planned to have a sign pre-traversed the Canal. All of the payboats had names: so did the mules which pulled them. As it happened, the name of the payboat was "Candoc" and it proved to be the winning entry.

For her entry, Paula received a pair of ice skates.

C. Eugene Mason, recreation director, yesterday thanked all of the 162 who entered the contest which was open to those from 6 through 18 years of age enrolled in city schools.

The judges, Mason said, had a difficult time, in choosing a win-Girl Scout Council; and Charles Shannon happened to mention her. Eventually, Mason added, it R. Nuzum, city engineer.

Animal Griddlecakes
Will Wake 'Em Up

Start the family out in the morning with a special treat that will open sleepy eyes. Animal Griddlecakes are no extra trouble and are a good enticement to skimpy breakfast eaters. To prepare, sift together 1½ cups sifted enriched flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt and 2 tablespoons sugar. Combine 1 beaten egg and 1½ cups milk. Add to flour mixture, stirring until mixture is smooth. Add 3 tablespoons melted shortening and blend well. Working quickly, form animals by spooning batter onto hot griddle in animal shapes. For a tortoise, spoon on body first then add small amounts of batter to form head, legs and tail. For a bunny, spoon on batter for body and head, then add long ears and a puff tail. Use your imagination for other animal shapes. Turn griddlecakes carefully when they become puffy and form bubbles. They should be turned only once. Makes about 12 griddlecakes.

Ham-Cheese
Sandwich
SurprisePancakes For Dessert? Why Not?

Why not pancakes for dessert? Strawberry Pancake Dessert is ready in minutes and can be prepared for assembly before dinner. Be sure to allow time for the frozen strawberries (1-pint) to defrost. Then sift together 1 cup sifted enriched flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon baking soda and 2 tablespoons sugar. Beat 2 eggs when the Reciprocal Trade Agreement is over. Pour about ½ cup batter at a time onto a hot, greased griddle and bake over low heat until top surface is bubbly. Turn and brown other side. Keep warm in slow oven until ready to serve. To assemble dessert, spread thin layer of strawberries over one pancake and then continue stacking pancakes and spreading strawberries between each layer. Cut in pie-shaped pieces and serve with whipped cream, confectioners' sugar or dairy sour cream. Substituting 1 cup crushed pineapple for 1 cup strawberries is a delicious variation. Makes about 4 servings.

6 slices (2 ounces each) cooked ham
18 tomato slices, cut ¼ inch thick

Toast 6 slices of bread on one side only. Combine egg, salt, milk and Worcestershire sauce. Dip the untoasted side of bread in egg mixture and place untoasted side down on a heavily greased cookie sheet. Place a slice of the "aye" of its beholders. Its cheese, then a slice of ham and amel-peach topping easily wins a slice of tomato on each toast-vote of confidence on a baker's sliced bread slice. Top each with a apple pie. Add the ingredients are piece of bread that has been dip-but three 1½ tablespoons melted in the egg mixture, placing butter, ¼ cup each of brown sugar-dipped side up. Bake in a mod-ar and chopped pecans. Spread extra oven (375°F.) for 20 to 25 evenly atop the pie, then, just before minutes or until lightly browned for serving, warm it under medium broiler heat for 5 minutes.

Last Thursday the President sent his message on trade to the European Economic Community or Common Market. The message included legislative requests which are designed to allow the President to reduce tariffs and to establish some novel programs which will require close Congressional scrutiny.

The expiring trade program is due to be reauthorized by the end of the year. The provisions of this new program will require many weeks of study and discussion. It is already clear, however, that certain questions will have to be answered. I am particularly interested in ascertaining whether increased exports will solve our balance of payments problem.

Since the program was last extended, the world has seen major developments to reshape our trade policy. The growing importance of the European Common Market has presented our country with economic challenges and opportunities that cannot be met by the old program. The growing pressures on our balance of payments position may make a more favorable trade balance imperative in order to prevent further decline of gold from our reserves. It is equally important to capitalize on the new opportunities for our own economic growth that are afforded by a healthier world economy. The emergence of Communist nations on the world markets also gives rise to the need for a source to insure victory in the Cold War.

To meet these challenges, the President has asked for new authority for the United States to increase trade which I believe is in the best overall interest of the United States.

Dinner For Couples Club

Here is the dinner menu and accompanying wines served recently by a group of six who have been meeting for dinner once a month for more than a year.

Broiled Oysters

California Brut Champagne

Boned Leg of Lamb*

Mint Stuffing

Browned Potatoes

Green Beans Amandine

California Cabernet Sauvignon

Celery Victor Sauterne*

Sherried Creme Brulee*

Coffee

California Port

The division of work went like this: The host couple prepared and served the roast and vegetables; another couple handled oysters and salad; the third couple prepared the dessert at home.

After a leisurely dinner and pleasant conversation over coffee and Port, everybody helped with the dishes.

Here are some of the recipes used in the dinner menu:

Boned Leg Of Lamb With Mint Stuffing

(Serves 6 to 9)

1 (5-6 lb.) leg of lamb, boned

Lemon juice

Pepper

1/2 cup light or dark raisins, chopped

1 small clove garlic, minced

1 small onion, chopped

1/4 cup butter or margarine

3 tablespoons California Rose wine

3 cups soft stale bread crumbs (Or use 8-oz. pkg. stuffing mix.)

2 or 3 tablespoons chopped mint or parsley

Pinch of dried rosemary or oregano

1/4 teaspoon salt

Rub lamb with lemon juice; sprinkle with pepper. Combine all other ingredients; mix well. Stuff lamb, fitting meat around mixture. Tie or hold in place with skewers. Place skewered side down in roasting pan. Roast in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 2 1/2 to 3 hours, basting often with following:

Wine Lamb Baste

1 cup California Rose Wine

1/4 cup soy sauce

1/2 teaspoon dried rosemary

1/2 teaspoon dried oregano

Celery Victor Sauterne

(Serves 8)

2 large bunches celery

1 quart chicken broth

(bouillon cubes or powdered concentrate may be used)

1/4 cup salad oil

1/4 cup Sauterne or other white dinner wine

1 tablespoon lemon juice

1 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon coarse black pepper

1/4 teaspoon paprika

1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

1 teaspoon grated onion

16 anchovy fillets

Trim root ends of celery and remove a few of the outer stalks, if coarse-fibered, but leave bunches whole. Cut off leaf end of stalks to make bunches about 6 inches long. Scrape outside stalks of bunches with a vegetable peeler to remove fibers. Cut each bunch lengthwise in quarters and wash thoroughly. Heat water to boiling in a large, broad-bottomed kettle. Add bouillon cubes and stir until dissolved. Add celery and cook, covered, for about 20 minutes, or just until tender. Let celery cool in the stock, then drain thoroughly and arrange in a large, shallow dish. Combine all remaining ingredients except anchovy fillets; pour over celery hearts. Chill in the refrigerator for several hours or overnight. At serving time, line 8 individual salad plates with crisp salad greens. (Watercress is excellent here.) Lay a celery heart, cut side up, on each plate. Crisscross 2 anchovy fillets over each heart and pour a little of the dressing in which the celery was marinated over all. NOTE: Trimmed celery, available in some markets in cellophane bags, is excellent to use for this salad. Or, canned celery hearts may be substituted for the fresh. Drain the canned hearts thoroughly before marinating them in the dressing as directed above.

Sherried Creme Brulee

(Serves 6)

2 1/2 cups thin cream or evaporated milk

6 egg yolks

1/4 cup granulated sugar

Dash of salt

1/2 cup Sherry

1/2 cups (firmly packed) brown sugar

Heat cream until hot but not scalded. Beat egg yolks slightly; add sugar and salt; slowly stir in hot cream; add Sherry. Pour mixture into an oven-proof glass dish (10 by 6 by 2 inches). Set baking dish in a shallow pan of hot water and bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) about 50 minutes, or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Cool, then chill thoroughly. Spread brown sugar evenly over custard, patting it down gently to smooth top surface. Place under preheated broiler for a minute, just until top surface of sugar melts. Leave oven door open and watch carefully! Chill again before serving. To serve, slice with a sharp knife and lift out servings with a spatula.

Holiday Veal Dish

When serving veal steaks, top them with a colorful paprika sauce. Simply prepare a medium white sauce and add paprika as desired.

The Big Bee in honey stands for vitamin B—and beauty!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Sweet Thoughts? This One's A "Honey"!

For a quick-energy pickup and a real nutrition booster, no sweet can beat mineral-rich honey! This is an excellent food to add to your daily diet to make sure you get an extra ration of previous B and C vitamins. Remember, vitamins B and C are not stored in the body so you can't get too much of them every single day.

Taking your food essentials in natural form is the wisest approach to good nutrition. And there's no more natural food than honey. Because it is a natural product, it converts quickly into energy and releases, at the same time, its bounty of body-building ingredients into the blood stream. Honey's a fast worker; that's why it's such a staple with people like athletes and professional dancers. The darker the honey, the richer it is. And I don't mean the sort of "rich" that refers to fattening. Honey does contain a few more calories than other sweeteners but these are very likely to be burnt up easily in a burst of energy. After all, honey isn't meant to be eaten by the cupful. Just a spoonful now and then will do the trick, hardly enough to add weight (especially if you're being a good girl and skipping seconds on cakes and pies). You can take your honey straight from the spoon; it's delicious that way. It's even tastier combined with other good foods. Use them instead of jelly in a peanut butter sandwich. Let honey sweeten your morning grapefruit occasionally. Experiment with honey in salad dressings and desserts.

For beauty on the outside as well as the inside, here's another "honey" of an idea: Whip together an egg white, a tablespoonful of powdered milk and a teaspoonful of honey. Spread this over your face and rest while the application dries to tighten your skin. To view the pretty results, just rinse it off with warm water.

Add this to the many "Secrets of Skin Care" I advise in my special pamphlet, available now from this newspaper. Be sure to enclose 10¢ and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request. "Secrets of Skin Care" should be delivered to you within two weeks.

Chicken In January

The first weeks of the New Year with their inevitable penny-wise spending will have at least one compensating feature to mitigate the lean look of the family food budget. Delicious nourishing meals are still possible—especially, if the main dish features the bargain priced broiler-fryers that are now in plentiful supply at Northeast markets.

Compare the prices for the prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons of unsulphured molasses, 1/4 cup of unsulphured molasses. Cover: remove from heat and let stand a few minutes. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Here's a pleasing recipe for Golden Oven Barbecued Chicken to highlight a luncheon or dinner main dish. For the barbecue sauce, use 1/2 cup honey, 1/2 cup

Taffy Oatmeal

Cook 2 cups rolled oats according to directions on box. Stir in 1/4 cup of unsulphured molasses. Cover: remove from heat and let stand a few minutes.

Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Senate Cloakroom

by Sen. J. Glenn Beall

THE UN "BOND" ISSUE — Heretofore I have supported Foreign Aid as money well spent on "Mutual Security." The Foreign Aid theory is that money expended under the program (1) will bring about self-sustaining economic growth for other nations which will be reflected in our own economy and (2) will reduce the danger of conflict. The theory has not worked out well. Some of the immense funds which we have made available have been well applied and have produced good results, others have not. The effective spending of large funds requires experience, competence, honesty, and organization. Lacking any one of these four factors, large injections of capital into developing countries can cause more harm than good. I have been forced to the conclusion that economic development or lack of it is primarily due to differences in people — in their attitudes, customs, traditions, and institutions — and that if the countries which are lagging are to join in the procession of economic progress, their people must change some of their thinking and some of their methods.

As for what our Foreign Aid dollars have accomplished, look, for example, at Southeast Asia, where since 1945 our aid has totaled more than 5 thousand Million Dollars. And, with what results? The Communists have captured North Vietnam, won control of more than half of Laos, seem about to get the rest of it, have made deep inroads into South Vietnam, and are crossing into Thailand. We're actually running out of places to retreat to.

Have we bought durable friends with our Foreign Aid dollars? On the same day that our State Department granted Ghana 133 Million Dollars, Ghana voted against us on the seating in the UN of the Red regime of China. On that crucial vote, 37 nations voted against us, and all but two of them had been recipients of U.S. Foreign Aid dollars. India, who nearly always votes against us in the UN, has received from us more than Three Thousand Million Dollars.

We should ask a few questions before we spend more of our taxpayers' money on Foreign Aid — Are the recipients of the aid worthy of it? Are we ourselves able to plan the aid intelligently and execute it efficiently? Will it do us (the U.S.A.) any good?

Waffled Praline French Toast

2 eggs, slightly-beaten
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
12 slices raisin bread
1/4 cup light brown sugar (firmly packed)
1/4 cup coarsely chopped pecans
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup evaporated or regular milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract

Combine milk, beaten eggs and salt. Dip bread into egg mixture and grill in a waffle baker until golden brown. Mix brown sugar, pecans, butter, milk and vanilla extract until smooth; heat about ten minutes, stirring constantly. Spread over hot bread waffles. Serve immediately.

Yield: 6 servings 2 slices toast per serving.

Hot "Watch" Canapes

Make them in minutes. On top of about two dozen round crisp crackers on a cookie sheet put teaspoonfuls of: 1 egg white beaten very stiff with 1/2 cup real mayonnaise folded into it. Some like a few drops of onion juice added. Run the sheet under a medium hot broiler and WATCH a moment, until golden brown and puffed. After time add 1/4 cup grated cheese OR 1 teaspoon onion soup mix to the basic egg white and mayonnaise mixture.

Celebrate With Roast Beef

A special dinner deserves a Make thin slices toward the ribs and across the grain. splendid meat, so choose an elegant beef standing rib roast.

Simply place the roast fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. There is no need to add water or cover the meat since roasting is a dry heat method of cooking.

A meat thermometer is a good guide to the doneness of the roast. Insert it so the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part.

For an accurate reading, be sure the bulb does not rest in fat or bone.

Place the meat in a slow oven (300° F.). If you like juicy, rare beef, remove the roast when the thermometer reaches 140° F. The thermometer should register 160° F. for medium and 170° F. for well-done. To estimate the cooking time, allow 18 to 25 minutes per pound for rare, 22 to 25 for medium and 27 to 30 for well-done.

The roast will be easier to carve if the meat retailer removes the chine bone. For carving, place the roast on its side with the small cut surface up.

New Lamb, Cranberry Attraction

If you're looking for a new way to introduce an old pair of food friends this is it! Lamb and cranberry sauce, lamb and cranberry salad and lamb with cranberry relish are a few familiar ideas but try cooking the cranberries with lamb for a new treat for your family. Lamb chops are the meat cut used. Although shoulder chops are the ones featured in this recipe, rib and loin chops may also be used. As a result of the great demand for them, rib and loin chops are usually reserved for broiling.

The chops should be cut 1/2 to 1/4 inch thick and because these lamb cuts are very tender less than an hour of cooking time will be required for cooking the chops through coarse food grinder with and blending the flavors. A hint of spices is an attractive note.

Planned Leftovers

It's a smart idea to buy a large enough ham to have enough left for at least one more meal. That second-day dish will be time-saving and economical, and there are so many delicious cooked ham recipes from which to choose.

Companionable Tuna

Because of its delicate flavor, tuna in vegetable oil combines companionably with a variety of foods. This winter, it teams up with cream cheese and comes to the party. To make Tuna Cheese Dip, combine two 3-ounce packages of cream cheese with two cans tuna in vegetable oil, and to drizzles in pan. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Serve over lamb chops. 4 servings.

Brown lamb chops in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Combine cloves, cinnamon, 1/4 cup water and cranberry sauce. Pour over lamb chops. Cover tightly and simmer for 45 minutes or until meat is tender. Remove meat to warm platter. Combine 1/4 cup water and flour and add to drippings in pan. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Serve over lamb chops. 4 servings.

Oranges And Dates Make This Cake

"Something more than just another dessert" can well describe this cake. It suggests a new way for featuring the abundant orange and date supply found in markets this month. The orange juice and orange rind are mixed with sugar and cooked to pour over the baked cake while it's still warm. Whipped cream or dairy sour cream is the final topping. Lard, used as the shortening, gives fluffy, even textured cakes and is also a wise choice when making tender, flaky pastries.

Dry ingredients can be sifted together and dates and nuts can be chopped in advance to make mixing easy.

Orange Blossom Date Cake

2 cups sifted enriched flour
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup lard
1/2 cup baking powder
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
3/4 cup sour milk
1/2 cup chopped dates
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup orange juice
3/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Grease a 9-inch square baking pan. Sift together flour, salt, soda and baking powder. Cream lard and 1 cup sugar together until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Add sifted ingredients alternately with sour milk, mixing well after each addition. Stir in dates and nuts. Pour batter into baking pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 25 to 30 minutes. Combine orange juice, 3/4 cup sugar and orange rind, and heat to boiling. Pour over warm cake. Serve warm with whipped cream or dairy sour cream, if desired.

Sweetbreads And Cream Breakfast

1 pair blanched sweetbreads
2 tablespoons butter
2 eggs, slightly-beaten
1/2 cup sour cream
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon chopped pimento
1/4 teaspoon salt
4 small English muffins

Cut or break sweetbreads into small pieces. Melt butter in a 10-inch skillet. Sauté sweetbreads until nicely browned. Combine beaten eggs, sour cream, parsley, pimento and salt together. Add to sautéed sweetbreads in skillet. Heat until just set. Break English muffins in half with a fork. Place on baking sheet and brown under broiler. Spoon eggs over muffins and serve two halves per serving.

Yield: 4 servings

Use A Thermometer

Do you use a roast meat thermometer when roasting meats? Research has shown that the meat thermometer is the most accurate guide to the degree of doneness of roasts, for it registers the internal temperature. Cooking time may be used as an approximation, but this is not as accurate as the meat thermometer.

Pork Chops And Beans For Flavor

Just about this time of year homemakers are looking for new ideas to add spice to family menus. The ideas may come from featuring new meat and vegetable combinations for the main entree, new salads and desserts, or an old favorite in a new dress.

Pork and beans are old partners but when served as Pork Chops and Green Beans with a celery and dill flavor blend you'll be adding a new recipe to your file of musts with meat. Pork rib or loin chops may be selected. To shorten preparation time the chops may be browned and the green beans defrosted in advance and stored in the refrigerator until ready to combine for baking. When the time comes to prepare the meal, mix together the defrosted beans, cover and bake.

Pork Chop—Green Bean Casserole

6 rib or loin pork chops, cut 3/4 inch thick
1 tablespoon lard or drippings
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 packages (10 ounces each)

slice stale bread cut into small cubes. When garlic is brown, remove and discard. Remove bread cubes, drain on paper towel. Add sifted flour and the grated rind of one lemon, then beat in, one at a time, three eggs until batter is smooth. Heat Spanish olive oil to 365° (cube of bread browns in 1 minute), then add pieces of batter the size of a walnut, cook 3 or 4 minutes. Add 1 teaspoon lemon juice, cook 1 minute longer.

Brown chops in lard or drippings. Season with 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. Mix together beans, soup, dill seed, milk and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Pour bean mixture in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 45 minutes, or until meat is stirring constantly.

"Boy, talk about luck . . .!"

Asparagus Sevillana Spanish Crullers Are "Sighs"—Of Delight

Frozen asparagus spears are "Suspiros" or, literally, "sighs," cooked in Spanish olive oil. First is the name the Spanish give to a egg-rich crullers rolled in a sugar-cinnamon mixture while hot.

Heat together 1/2 cup milk, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon sugar and 1/4 teaspoon salt until milk reaches boiling; add 2 cups

slice stale bread cut into small cubes. When garlic is brown, remove and discard. Remove bread cubes, drain on paper towel. Add sifted flour and the grated rind of one lemon, then beat in, one at a time, three eggs until batter is smooth. Heat Spanish olive oil to 365° (cube of bread browns in 1 minute), then add pieces of batter the size of a walnut, cook 3 or 4 minutes. Add 1 teaspoon lemon juice, cook 1 minute longer.

Serve asparagus topped with sautéed croutons.

Citrus and apples hold the spot light on the winter fruit market. The alert shopper will take advantage of the high quality citrus featured at the fruit counter, says Virginia McLuckie, food economist at the Baltimore Office of the University of Maryland Department of Markets.

Apples are in liberal supply. The best buys are found in grapefruit and temple oranges. When you shop for citrus fruit varieties, red and golden delicious, look for the following quality points: firm and heavy for its size, free from mold or soft spots, smooth skinned. The skin should be thin for the variety for a high juice content. Pleasing odor to avoid over-ripe fruit. Your selection may be made from grapefruit either seeded or seedless.

The produce counter offers white potatoes, spinach and kale as the best buys. White potatoes have been in plentiful supply, the 25-pound bag is the best unit to buy. The spinach and kale are coming mostly from nearby Virginia. Florida tomatoes are moderately priced.

This is the season of the year when large size eggs are in greatest supply. On a pound basis large eggs give the most value for the money. Grade A Large Eggs are the best buy.

Fresh pork shoulders are recommended. Pork is one meat that must be thoroughly cooked before eating.

Recommended at the fish counter is swordfish.

Intentionally Speeds To Victory In $33,450 Palm Beach Handicap

Carry Back Second With Stretch Run

Favorite Carries Top Weight In Win; Ambiopise Third

By GENE PLOWDEN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tartan Stable's Intentionally sped to victory in the $33,450 Palm Beach Handicap at Hialeah Park Wednesday and Carry Back, the Kentucky Derby champion, put on a blistering stretch run to finish second.

Ambiopise finished third and Beau Admiral, the early pace-setter in the seven-furlong feature, held on for fourth in the field of 13 of the fastest handicap horses in Florida.

Intentionally, with Robery Usery making up most of his top weight of 126 pounds, ran the seven furlongs in 1:22.3-5 and paid $7.20 to win as favorite.

Carry Back, under jockey John Sellers with 124 pounds, was second choice.

Bill Hartack got Editorialist out of the gate first but Beau Admiral soon took over the lead. When they made the far turn, Carry Back was 10th with Beau Admiral, Editorialist and Intentionally battling for the lead.

Carry Back, a Florida bred making his first start as a 4-year-old, was sixth turning into the stretch and there began one of his characteristic late drives down the outside.

He sped past tiring horses one by one, but distance ran out before he could catch Intentionally, who had a length and three-quarters lead at the finish. It was two lengths further back to Ambiopise, who beat Beau Admiral by a neck.

Martinsburg Sweeps Allegany; Keyser Scores Ninth PVC Triumph

Bulldogs Led
By Bartock
In 61-53 Win

Visitors Register
Eighth Straight;
Davis Scores 23

Once-beaten Martinsburg, after hitting from the floor at a consistent pace throughout the first three periods, went more than six minutes without scoring a field goal in the final frame, but the Bulldogs kept plugging away from the foul line and held off Allegany's surging Campers for a 61-53 victory last night at Campbello.

The victory was the eighth in a row and 12th in 13 contests for the Bulldogs, and a third of the wins have come at the expense of Cumberland schools. The West Virginians had already swept a pair from Fort Hill (82-68 and 76-64) and last night completed a sweep of their series with Allegany, having beaten the Campers by a 66-54 margin earlier in the season at Martinsburg.

Allegany connected on seven of 15 shots in the first period to secure a 15-12 lead, but the taller, more experienced Bulldog cagers got their attack organized in the second quarter and began to pull away. John Reuter's jump shot from the top of the key gave the Bulldogs a 16-15 edge with only 49 seconds gone and they held the upper hand the rest of the way.

Campers Cut Lead

By the end of the third quarter, the visitors commanded an 11-point, 46-35 advantage but the Campers, mainly on the strength of Kenny Davis' scoring and rebounding, pulled within four points at one stage.

Six minutes and 12 seconds elapsed in the final quarter before Bartock, leading the fast break, scored Martinsburg's first goal in the period. In the meantime, however, accuracy from the foul line enabled the Bulldogs to maintain the lead.

A jump shot by Davis sliced Martinsburg's lead to four (47-43) with 3:47 left to play, but a pair of field goals by Tim Bartock and three by Gary Phalen quickly gave the Bulldogs breathing room again, 52-43.

After Bartock finally ended the visitors' field goal drought, they came through with three more two-pointers to sew up the victory.

The third period was Martinsburg's most productive and it was led by Bartock, the bespectacled veteran whose competitive spirit and court savvy have made him the guiding light of the Bulldog quint the past several years.

Bartock Scores 22

Bartock, who wound up with 22 points, scored ten of them in the third quarter, which found the Bulldogs outscoring Allegany, 19-14. The senior backcourt ace hooped nine of 14 shots from the floor and converted all four of his foul attempts. Phalen came through with 17 for the Bulldogs, whose overall shooting percentage was respectable, 43% (24-55).

Davis played one of his best ball games of the season. In addition to outplaying the taller Phalen under the boards, he wound up as the game's high scorer with 23 points, missing only six of 16 field goal attempts and hitting three of five foul tosses. The Jim Cox, with 11 points in double figures, Alico, as a unit made 22 of 59 shots from the floor for a 37% average.

D&E Defeats Catamount Quint, 80-74

PSC's Fahey Tops Scorers With 27; Ferrell Gets 23

Potowmack State's Catamounts, who can't seem to win in West Virginia Conference competition, last night blew a sizeable lead and wound up losing to Davis and Elkins College, 80-74, at Keyser.

The Cats, who are now 0-4 in WVC play, have a 6-10 record overall. Earlier in the season they dropped a 73-51 decision to D&E in a game played at Elkins.

A lead that reached 15 points (50-35) at halftime dwindled steadily following the intermission. A pair of free throws by Shreve put D&E ahead at 68-67 and the visiting Senators stayed on top the rest of the game.

The score was tied seven times in the first half before the Cats took a 21-20 lead they held until Shreve put the Senators back on top.

Bob Ferrell, one of the nation's leading small college scorers, was held to just two field goals in the first half as a result of Bill Kennedy's effective defensive job. Ferrell wound up with 23 points, well below his 30-plus per game average.

Holsclaw, Cook and Dave Kirk, with 18, 14 and 12 respectively, also scored in double figures for the winners. Kirk was a member of Romney's undefeated West Virginia Class AA championship team of 1959-60.

Big John Fahey pumped in 27 tallies to take game scoring honors for the Catamounts and Stan Shingleton, a teammate of Kirk's on the Romney quint two years ago, came through with 21.

Dukes Avenge Loss, Turn Back Villanova, 53-51

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Duquesne, avenging a defeat earlier in the season, edged Villanova 53-51 Wednesday night in a neck-and-neck basketball game.

The game was tied twice in the first half, and the Villanova Wildcats held a 29-27 lead at intermission.

The lead changed hands repeatedly in the second half with the Dukes going in front to stay at 49-47 on Bill Stromple's jump shot with 5:58 left.

With 10 seconds left, the Wildcats called time then tried to tie the game, but Jim McMonagle's shot went astray and the Dukes grabbed the ball and the game.

The Dukes, seventh-ranked in the weekly Associated Press poll, lost 78-53 to Villanova in the Quaker City Tournament earlier this season.

Duquesne now has a 15-2 record compared with Villanova's 15-3 mark.

Don Harmon Goal Defeats Lions, 51-49

Piedmont Blows 11 Point Lead; Tornado Registers 12th Win

Don Harmon whipped in a one-hander from the side that went through the nets at the final buzzer to give Keyser High's Golden Tornado a 51-49 victory over Piedmont High's Lions in a Potowmack Valley Conference thriller last night at Piedmont.

The triumph was the ninth straight for Coach Estel "Eck" Miers' Keyser quint in the conference, and was doubly gratifying to the Tornado mentor as it not only kept Keyser unbeaten in the 19-team circuit but also was gained over the Lions who are coached by Eck's brother, William "Huck" Miers.

The loss was the sixth for Piedmont in 16 games this season. The Lions now are 8-3 in league play.

Browns Early Lead

Piedmont blew an early 11-point lead as the Lions built up a 21-10 margin before Keyser began to connect in the second quarter.

The Tornado five rallied to pull within two points at 28-26 at half-time.

In a nip-and-tuck third quarter the two teams traded baskets before Keyser gained the upper hand momentarily at 38-37 as the period ended.

Piedmont came back to go ahead for the last time with about a minute to play when Gene Taylor's basket put the Lions in front 48-47. A foul goal by Larry Patterson made it 49-47 with 27 seconds left, but Keyser's Bill Thomas pumped in a one-hander to knot the count again at 49-49 in the last 10 seconds.

With five seconds remaining, Keyser gained possession of the ball when Piedmont was charged with an offensive foul. Harmon took the ball and dribbled down the side court, his shot going through the air into the basket as the game ended.

Keyser Wins Twelfth

Keyser's win was the 12th of the season for the Tornado which has lost only twice.

Thomas took scoring honors for the game with 20 points, followed closely by Harmon with 17. Best bets for Piedmont were Gene Taylor with 14 and Keith Russell who scored 13 before he fouled out with 3 1/2 minutes to play.

In the preliminary game, Keyser's junior high team defeated the Piedmont junior high quint, 29-27. The lineups:
